

Adelaide Dot Net Users Group

ADNUG

Who are we?

The Adelaide Dot Net Users Group is a non-profit software developer group, which has been in existence since 1993 as the SA Visual Basic Users Group. The group's main focus is the Microsoft Dot Net development technologies. We also look at Visual Basic versions 3-6, VBA, VB script and Active X programming, MS Access and SQL Server databases for the Internet and Intranet. Our programming experience ranges from beginners to gurus.

What can the Adelaide Dot Net Users Group do for me?

We hold regular monthly meeting on the second Wednesday of each month at the Innovation Centre, Level 2 Westpac House, King William St, Adelaide. These meetings feature free education sessions as well as advanced technical sessions based on the bleeding edge. Each member receives a meeting notice, detailing the coming months meeting agenda. All members also have free access to our web site, which contains many free applications, news, links and shareware. Members are invited to become Microsoft Certified, so ask about our Microsoft Certified Training program.

Meetings?

We arrange very interesting speakers such as:
Presentations by Microsoft
Integration of Office
Best practice coding
Application lifecycle issues
Knowledge Management applications

Inside a Web Service
How to sell yourself in the contracting world
Videos downloaded from MSDN (Microsoft)
Visual Studio 2008
Members presenting their own projects
Security issues for developers

Hotline?

For .Net queries -- bring them to our meetings or email secretary@adnug.com.

What does it cost and how do I join?

Membership of the Adelaide Dot Net Users Group costs $30.00 per year ($15 for Students). This includes access to our web site, all educational sessions and the monthly meetings. See our Secretary
